Danny Ticker (12:13)

Why haven't we received the desktop order for Telus through the automated ordering system yet?

Teresa Chen (12:19)

I was on the verge of making the sale, but now they've received a better offer from our competitor. I'm afraid we might lose the sale.

Danny Ticker (12:26)

That is unacceptable. We can't afford to lose this customer. What do you need to make it happen?

Teresa Chen (12:30)

The bottom line is: I need to offer them a lower price. They've had a slow year and are experiencing major budget constraints.

Sonja Metcalf (12:40)

I don't think we can budge on the price. We've already gone lower than we normally do.

Danny Ticker (12:48)

Is there some kind of freebie we can offer them?

Teresa Chen (12:56)

I don't think they care about freebies.

Danny Ticker (1: 06)

Even season tickets for the Warriors home games? We've got five left.

Teresa Chen (1:10)

I've already tried. Sonja, are you positive we can't go just a little lower? The competitor's price is only 3% lower than ours. But we stand to lose tens of thousands per year if we part ways with this client.

Sonja Metcalf (1: 19)

Listen, here's what I can do. I've just talked to my boss, and she's agreed to let us go down another 5% but that's it. Any lower than that and we won't even be making enough to cover our base production and shipping costs.

44. What kind of products does this company sell?

(1) computer (2) home appliance (3) garden (4) office supplies

45. Why does Teresa Chen think she won't be able to make the sale?

(1) Another company offered the client a lower price. (2) The client wasn't satisfied with the previous order. (3) The client wants more freebies. (4) The client thinks this the product isn't worth the money.

46. What strategy does Danny Ticker suggest?

(1) Giving the client a bigger discount. (2) Giving the client a paid vacation. (3) Giving the client free sporting event tickets. (4) Giving the client access to VIP benefits.

47. What is the outcome of the discussion?

(1) They agree to give up on keeping this client. (2) The financial department agrees to lower the price. (3) Sonja Metcalf's boss refuses to give the client a discount. (4) Sonja Metcalf agrees to a 5% discount, but shipping costs will be higher.
