Question 32-34

Value of an Education

Over dinner last night, my father asked me if I had decided what I wanted to study in university. I told him that I wasn't sure. Then, after a few minutes, I added: "I guess I don't really care either. I just want to study something that will help me earn a lot of money after I graduate."

My father looked over at me and I could tell he was not happy. "If you want to make a lot of money, I suggest you quit school right now and work hard. I don't want you to waste another minute in school."

"What are you talking about?" I asked. My father was an educated man. He always seemed to value a good education.

"Go to university to learn something. Don't miss the opportunity," he said. "Remember that most people in the world don't have this kind of chance."

32. When they were eating, what did the speaker's father ask him?
- A. What kind of job he wanted.
B. If he had some money.
C. What he wanted to major in.

D. The writer said he only cared about how much money he would earn.
34. A lot of people in the world don't have the chance _____
- A. to talk to their fathers often.
B. to go to university.
C. to make a lot of money.
D. to work in the bank.

Question 35-37

Christmas in America

In the United States, Christmas is an important holiday. Since it is the longest vacation of the year, it is also the most popular. Students usually get about three weeks off while workers have at least seven days to rest. For Christmas, people spend a lot of time watching television, buying expensive presents, singing badly and eating until they feel sick.

Sadly, a lot of people seem to be forgetting the true meaning of Christmas. Traditionally, Christmas was held to celebrate the birth of Jesus. In his life, Jesus called upon people to open their hearts to the poor. These days, Christmas seems to exist more for people to receive gifts they don't need than it does to spread the message of Jesus.

One can only wonder what Jesus would think if he were alive today. He would probably wonder what an old man in the red suit had to do with his birthday.

35. Why is Christmas an important holiday?
- A. It is important to people because it is long.
B. It's important because there is a lot of beautiful snow.
C. It is important because there's lots of delicious food.
D. It is important because people could sing songs.

Questions 38-40

I Hate Needles

In my free time, I love to go jogging. I usually run on the track at the National Taiwan University. It is an important part of my life. On average, I run five times a week. When it is raining, I go to my gym and run inside instead.

Last year, I hurt my knee. After looking at it, the doctor frowned and said: "You must rest for at least a month." Imagine my pain. I'm not talking about the trouble my knee was giving me. I'm talking about not being able to run. I was so depressed.

Then, my friend Walter suggested that I give acupuncture(針灸) a try. I was nervous at first, especially when I saw those long needles Chinese doctors use. "What are you going to do with those?" I asked, getting ready to run away faster than I had ever run before.

"Relax," he smiled. To my surprise, I felt nothing. Furthermore, I was running again in a couple of weeks. This time, I was running out of love, not for fear.

38. What did the writer do when it was raining?
- A. He took a rest.
 - B. He ran inside.
 - C. He went to the National Taiwan Track.
 - D. He got depressed.
39. What happened to the writer last year?
- A. He hurt his knee.
 - B. He met Walter.
 - C. He got into trouble.
 - D. He got sick.
40. What did Walter suggest that the writer do?
- A. He suggested that he rest for a month.
 - B. Walter said that he should find a new hobby.
 - C. He said he shouldn't be depressed.
 - D. Walter suggested that he try acupuncture.
